As To Gossips.

WOMEN are not the only gossips, dear Jeems. There are a lot of long tongued men who spend as much time and take as keen delight in gossip as any old female. One is just as despicable as the other. The gossip is a cross between a buzzard and a hyena. He takes no notice of anything decent. What ought to be brains in the tatter's head is decayed slop. A gossip is a sneak and a coward, nevertheless, spineless, brainless; a human being only in appearance. No body of sense or consequence will become a tatter or a gossip.

No, dear brethren, it is not women alone who gossip. A man may be and some of them are just as bad. They are not really men, they only appear to be. There are not words in all the languages sufficiently strong to describe the contemptible character of one whose chief delight is in publishing the actual or imaging short comings of others. If there isn't a hell there ought to be one for this kind of folks. All gossips of all ages, sizes, species and condition ought to be hang without benefit of clergy. —Exchange.

W. D. Evans had a blind horse stray off about a week ago during a windstorm, and only recovered it in time to save the animal from famishing for want of water. Blind as it is, it managed to find grass.

Uncle "Bud" White has sold his claim to R. L. Scott, and will go back to Texas. Mr. White is one of our old settlers, and he has many friends who are sorry to see him leave New Mexico.

W. D. Evans commenced this week to plant eighty or ninety acres of fruit and forest trees on the editor's claim. If you need wood, saw logs or fence post you will probably be able to get a supply from our forest, if you can wait until the trees grow. Also any old kind of seedling fruit you can name, Arctic or Tropical! Semi-arid or dry-salted.

IN THE TEETH OF HURRICANE.

What Sallerman Meant When He Told of an Adventure in Force 10.

Doubtless there were many puzzled readers when a deep-sea skipper rolled into this harbor a few days ago and reported that his ship had been belated by a gale which had piped up to "force 10." "Force 10," it was explained, meant something like a hurricane.

It is a term borrowed from the Beaufort scale, a scheme of wind measurements devised by the British admiral Beaufort before the days of ocean-going steam. Force 1 was a calm, force 2 a light breeze, and so on up to the hurricane velocity.

Perhaps, too, the Beaufort scale may give a clue to those who have been wondering for some time at the title of a popular German picture. It is just the expense of frowning cloud and storm tossed billow, and the artist has named it "Widstarke 10, 11."—New York Sun.

A lot of the young folks of this community took supper Sunday evening at the Central hotel.

J. C. Engle, who lives about 15 miles southwest of town, was in Kenna Tuesday, and remained over night, a guest of Central hotel.

Don't overlook the fact that we have a good harness shop in Kenna. Mr. Lockart is a first-class workman, and carries a good stock.

Mrs. Geo. Northcutt and children returned home from Texas on last evening's train. They have been visiting friends for several weeks past at different points in Texas.

Our neighborhood correspondents all failed to land items this week. Guess they are all so busy planning spring gardens they could not find time to gossip.

Miss Zellie Smith and sister came up from Roswell this week to visit their parents. Miss Zellie also had a contest hearing here on the 24th, for a fine claim, near her father's land.

Chas. L. Wells this week relinquished his claim, in the interest of Frank Parker, who filed on it as additional to his former homestead. Mr. Wells has moved to Kirkland, Texas.

Mrs. Annie Parrash, formerly Annie Barlow, was a guest at the Central hotel Tuesday night of this week. H. B. Bryan, the Kenna liveryman, drove her out to her claim Wednesday morning, northwest of town.

Read Frick's new ad this week. He says he is in fine shape now to take care of your wants in groceries and fresh meats. He is going to kill a fine young sheep today, so can furnish you a nice mutton roast for your Sunday dinner.

W. L. Gilliam has sold and relinquished his claim north of town, and George Chavers has filed on it as additional homestead. One of Mr. Gilliam's sons came out, from Duncan, Oklahoma, and made the deal with Chavers.

We learn that farmers of this section are planning to plant a big acreage of broom-corn this season, and if they do we can reasonably expect some money in circulation here a little after midsummer. Broom-corn is practically a sure crop, and it matures in less time than most crops, and is sold usually at a good price. It is almost certain to bring from $75 to $100 per ton this season, for there was a big shortage of the crop last year.

When the farmer kills a hog he saves only the meat; but when the packing houses kill hogs they save hide, hoofs and bristles. In fact Phil Armour says they save everything but the "Spueal."
